Elders' Problems

Doctors tell us that more and more businessmen are afflicted with ulcers. Several causes are to blame. Such as labor problems, keen competition, high overhead, and other expenses. While sympathy is extended to businessmen bothered by these situations, I wonder what would happen if some of these men worked under the circumstances of some elders I know. Just suppose...

- That you were never able to see all of your workers at the same time.
- That a slight headache or "company coming" justified a worker in taking the day off.
- That rain and threatening weather kept 30 to 40% of your workers away.
- That your workers worked only if they felt like it, and when question about phases of their work, would immediately show their tempers and threaten to quit.
- That when slightly dissatisfied with some minor thing in the company they would threaten to quit and become a part of another company.
- That after you have committed yourself for several thousand dollars worth of work during the year, only a faithful few helped you succeed.
- That week after week your employees would misappropriate funds belonging to the owner of the company, which would have gone into the working capital of the company.
- That most of your employees thought that just showing up was working.
- That your workers felt no obligation to explain where they had been when they were absent.

Lesson From Steve

God hates "A false witness who speaks lies, And one who sows discord among brethren," Proverbs 6:19. Why do some Christians feel they have the authority to go behind a brother or sister's back to tell lies and create division? Did Jesus not say, "All authority has been given to Me in heaven and earth," Matthew 28:18? Did Jesus not give a stern warning against those who are angry with his brother without a cause, Matthew 5:22? Did Jesus not pray for unity, John 17? Why, then, would some individuals be so bent on destroying another's work based on false accusations and clever insinuations without first researching to see if such reports are true?

In the 2004 Bible Bowl our kids learned that Paul was determined to teach the Corinthians that division could not be a part of the Christian's life. As we studied the whole First Corinthian letter it became obvious that there were some in the church at Corinth who decided to do things their own way instead of God's way and the end result was division, and Paul condemned those actions as sin. Maybe divisive people strive for a following of their own (Acts 20:30.) Maybe division seekers just have a lot of time on their hands (I Timothy 5:13; 6:20-21.) Maybe those who are enamored with sowing discord have a "Diotrephes Complex" (III John 9-10.) Regardless, God's word (the final say on ALL matters) has eternally condemned division and those who practice it (Romans 15:4-6, I Corinthians 1:10, Romans 1:28-32.)

Therefore, our hope and prayer should be that the day would come when the church of Jesus Christ unites, not to fight each other, but to fight against the one who is laughing at our divisive ways - Satan. Imagine the possibilities.

In the meantime, forgive us all Father.

TEENAGE BIBLE STUDY

Unity will host TABS this Sunday with services beginning at 6:00 PM. We will leave from the building at 5:30. The topic is "One God."

SENIOR SAINTS CLASS

Please try to make plans to be with us for great study and fellowship. The class begins at 9:00 AM and we are studying I Corinthians 10. We truly hope that you can fellowship with us.

PROM ALTERNATIVE TRIP

Our 12th annual PAT begins on Thursday, April 27th as we descend on the cities of Louisville, Carrollton, and Cincinnati. We should arrive back in McMinnville around 10:00 PM Sunday, April 30th. Several items are on our agenda, but all we ask is that you keep us in your prayers for a safe trip to our destinations and back home again. Also, we have 10 high school students attending PAT 06. I know you are as proud of them as I am. What they are doing is not easy, but what their actions are saying speaks volumes.
