Church Directory

The picture taking is off to a great start. Thanks to all who have participated! If you have not either had your picture taken, or signed up, please do so. We would like for EVERYONE to have their picture made. As we have stressed, this is not being done by a photography company and no one will be trying to sell you anything. There are only two more Sunday evenings set aside. The directory helps everyone!

Notes From Steve

SPRING YOUTH RETREAT

"And now abide faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love."

The finishing touches for SYR 08 are being applied and excitement is in the air. ALL the BBYG are talking about the weekend of March 14 – 16 and for good reason. Great lessons and great classes concerning the Word of God and the love that emanates from it are at the heart of our retreat. However, there is the light's out singing, Hy-Lake Games, and of course the Talent Show that are also a key component.

So, all that is needed is for those who plan on attending to be at the meeting this Sunday, February 24th, following our evening worship and bring the following:

1. Money
2. Rules Form
3. Guest Request Form (If you have invited someone.)

If you cannot be at the meeting, please let me know and I will make arrangements to speak with you. This meeting is very important, so make every effort to be here this Sunday night.

HOME DEVOTIONAL

Immediately following our SYR meeting, everyone is invited to the Hiltons for this month's Home Devo. Boys bring a 2-liter and girls bring a dessert.

Gospel Meeting & Singing

The Bethany church of Christ will host a Gospel Meeting with Ben Flatt on February 24-27, with services at 7:00 pm.

The Bonner church of Christ will host a Gospel Singing on February 29 at 7:00 pm.

Being Successful

Recently while flying on board an airplane, I ran across an advertisement in one of the magazines provided by the airlines. The ad was for a life insurance company and had a photograph of a boy standing near a chalkboard with the handwritten phrase "Treat others the way you want to be treated". The company who placed the advertisement had purported that the principle revealed in this slogan had helped to make their one hundred year old company what it is today. Indeed it is a great slogan to live by. I am certain that any company who follows that principle will have a higher likelihood of being successful. For that matter, any club, church, team, relationship, etc... will most certainly be successful and well thought of if this principle is genuinely applied. I wonder, however, if the company running the ad knew that the phrase came from the Bible?

It was Jesus of Nazareth who said, "Do unto others what you would have them do unto you" (Matthew 7:12). Six hundred years earlier Confucius said, "Don't do unto others what you don't want them to do unto you." While the phrases are similar, they are not the same. The former promotes and requires involvement, activity, and concern for our fellow man. The latter, while noteworthy, fails to have the same societal and familial impact. It is a message of inactivity. Jesus said, "Do unto others."

Like with so many things, Jesus has taken humanity to a higher level. Doing unto others what we want them to do unto us has made the world a better place. Reaching out to the needy, speaking a word of encouragement, holding the door for someone, visiting the infirmed, helping a neighbor, and comforting the bereaved are some things that most people would want done to them if they were needy, sick, infirmed, or bereaved. While these may seem obvious to most, the principle of doing unto others must also be carried into our homes, schools, and politics. Let us talk to each other with kindness. Let us give a listening ear to those with whom we disagree. Let us love our enemies and let us pray for those that persecute us (Matt. 5:44). If we are willing to do unto others what we would want them to do unto us, we can cause even our enemies to glorify God at the coming of His Son Jesus Christ (1 Peter 2:12). If indeed this becomes our motto, in God's eyes we will be successful, and His is the only approval that will ultimately count.

~John W. Moore~

Make Of It What You Will

Don't let others decide what your attitude will be. We can do right despite what someone else does. We must make the best of the circumstances we are given.

---A blacksmith makes $5 worth of iron into horseshoes and gets $10 for them.

---A cutler makes the same iron into knives and gets $200.

---A machinist makes the same iron into needles and gets $6800.

---A watchmaker takes the same iron and makes it into mainsprings and gets $200,000; or into hair-springs and gets two million dollars, sixty times the value of the same weight of gold.

Strange as it may seem, the honeybee makes her honey from exactly the same nectar from which the hermit spider distills one of the deadliest poisons known to man. The bee's makeup allows her to produce honey, while the hermit spider's allows her to produce poison. Only one brings a smile to the lips of a child. Two people can respond to the same circumstances in completely different ways. One will use them to produce "honey" to the glory of God, and the other will produce "poison" to the shame of his Maker. Think of the honey that Joseph made with the circumstances his brothers provided for him (Gen.37-50). ~Selected~
