Meditation on Psalm 17

Lord, I lift up my heart in sincere prayer
To the true God who is pure and upright
Calling to You from a world of darkness
With a desire to walk daily in Your light.

Please uphold my steps in Your pathway
Help me stand firmly until time to die
I seek your strength and faithful guidance
To help me be "the apple of Your eye."

Something To Think About...

"God never made a promise that was too good to be true."

"If you have a Bible that's falling apart, you'll have a life that's not."

People and Challenges

- Why is that so many people take the challenge to run in a marathon, but won't enter the race of faith (Hebrews 12:1-2)?
- Why is it that so many people develop the skill of self control to engage in an athletic contest, but fail to develop that skill when it comes to their spiritual life (1 Corinthians 9:27)
- Why is it that so many people can read for hours in books that are difficult to read as well as interpret, yet neglect reading the Bible, which was intended to be read and understood (Ephesians 3:4; 2 Timothy 3:15)?
- Why is it that so many people can take individuals they have hired and mold and shape them with wisdom and understanding in a workplace, but fail miserably in raising their children in the discipline and instruction of the Lord (Ephesians 6:4)?
- Why is it that so many people want to take on extra responsibility in community service projects and social clubs, but have little or no desire to be involved in the work of God and his people (Titus 2:14)?
- Why is it that so many people are willing to sacrifice years of their lives to stay with one company and yet are ready to walk away (within a few years) from the one person they chose to spend their life with (Genesis 2:24)?
- Why is it that so many people spend great amounts of time to figure out puzzles and mysteries presented to them on a recreational level or on a professional level, and yet turn away from Jesus because they come to a "hard saying" (John 6:60) or something within the Christian life they consider too difficult?
- Why is it that so many people live with inconsistent behavior from friends, family and even themselves on a daily basis, yet leave a congregation or, the Lord himself, because of "hypocrites in the church" (James 2:7)?
- Why is that so many people are willing to sacrifice their health and physical well-being to engage in habits and behavior that only bring fleeting happiness, but are unwilling to be mistreated or misunderstood on behalf of God and his people (Hebrews 11:25-26)?

- Why is it that so many people are willing to lay down their life for a friend but not willing to live/die for Jesus (John 15:15; Romans 5:7)?

Tolerance?

If I read the signs of the times correctly, we consider tolerance to be the greatest sin imaginable. Tolerance, on the other hand, has been exalted to the chief of all virtues. And woe to that person who would speak out against any religion or claim that Christ is the only way to the Father. Such intolerance!

Forgive me if I have the sneaking suspicion that there are those who are willing to tolerate everything because they believe nothing. If everything is innocuous, toleration is easy.

Apparently the only exception the tolerant are willing to make is intolerance to those whom they perceive to be intolerant. In that case, no quarter will be given and toleration vanishes.

But what if Caballero was right when he said, "Error tolerates, truth condemns.?"

What if Jesus was speaking the truth when He said, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one comes to the Father but by me"? Where is your toleration now?

Preachers would do well to heed the words of Elizabeth Achtemcier: "As preacher, your job is to preach the text, not apologize for it." And that goes for all of us who seek to share the gospel of Christ.
