Sheriff's Office Visit:

We had a great turn out last Saturday. We had 45 people come and deliver food and gift bags to all of our sheriff officers. I was told that there is 38 officers, so we made 38 bags with pens, candy, notes of encouragement, and pictures that the kids colored. The officers told me that this was the nicest gesture that they have received. They were shocked as to how many people showed up. We were able to ask a few questions and here what a day as an officer is like. I was also informed that civilians can take a ride alongs and that made my day. We all thanked the officers that showed us their cars and let the kids turn on the lights and operate the sirens. Which is extremely loud when you stand in front of the car. My ears are still ringing thanks to Hayes and my son... Over all we had a great time and the ones that were there over 10 could tour the actual jail and we had several that toured the jail. Someone was trying to talk the officers into arresting me and put me in the back of the car so they could take a picture and put it on the projector screen, thankfully they did not do that. Please keep these men and women in your prayers as they protect us and serve our city. Also I want to thank everyone that donated money, brought items to give to the officers and to those who prepared the food. Thank you so much. I would say I would repay you the favor but my cooking is called Dominos or Taco Bell.

Home Devotional:

Please make plans to attend the Home Devotional at the McVey's house. I have heard that Dachele can make some pretty and tasty desserts and just maybe we can convince her to make some for the devotional wink wink... The fellowship is always the best thing to me when it is not at my house. My son thinks it is time to bring out all of his toys and just destroys the house when people come over. But we always have a good time no matter where we are. That is one thing I have noticed.
