Note: Starting this month, if someone is unable to attend for the whole month their names will be moved to the shut-in list published the second week of each month. This is not because they are unimportant as every soul is precious. Should someone on the shut-in list become hospitalized or become gravely ill their names will be put back on the sick list.

Quotes on Forgiveness

I can forgive, but I cannot forget, is only another way of saying, I will not forgive. Forgiveness ought to be like a cancelled note—torn in two, and burned up, so that it never can be shown against one.
~ Henry Ward Beecher ~

There's no point in burying a hatchet if you're going to put a marker on the site.
~ Sydney J. Harris ~

A man may as well go to hell for not forgiving as for not believing.

Another Day

O the bliss of a newborn day
And the freshness of morning's dew
When life reaches its highest peak
With such a God-given view.

Life is a beautiful gift from God
Then what more can we say
Except, thanks to the living God
For the light of another day.

Holding a Grudge

One day a visitor leaned on the old fence around a farm while he watched an old farmer plowing with a mule. After a while, the visitor said, "I don't like to tell you how to run your business, but you could save yourself a lot of work by saying, 'Gee' and 'Haw' to that mule instead of just tugging on those lines." The old farmer pulled a big handkerchief from his pocket and wiped his face. Then he said, "Reckon you're right, but this animal kicked me five years ago and I ain't spoke to him since."

The moral of the story seems obvious: A grudge is harder on the one who holds it than the one it is held against. The Apostle Paul said that we are to forgive any man if we have a quarrel against him. Just like Christ forgave us, we are to forgive each other (Col. 3:13). Friend, if God and Christ can extend mercy to you for your sins, surely you can be merciful to those who offend you.

Forgiveness is Good For Your Health!

Researchers Have Discovered New Truth Behind the Old Adage, "to Err Is Human and To Forgive, Divine." Studies Suggest That People Who Forgive Experience Physical and Mental Health Benefits. Research Also Indicates the Beneficial Health Benefits Vary by Age, and Are Affected by a Person's Willingness To Forgive Others, Their Willingness To Forgive Themselves, and Feelings of Being Forgiven by God.

The Study Conducted by the University of Michigan and Partly Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health, Found Young Adults; Aged 18-44 Were Less Likely To Forgive Others Than Middle Aged Adults (45-64) and Older Adults (65 and Up). Younger Adults Were Also Less Likely To Believe They Had Been Forgiven by God.

People who forgive reported decreased psychological distress, including fewer feelings of restlessness, hopelessness, and nervousness. Young adults who reported high levels of self-forgiveness were more likely to be satisfied with their lives. Older adults who reported high levels of forgiveness for others were more likely to report increased life satisfaction.
